Lindley Elementary Auditorium Renovation

If you've been at school lately, you've probably noticed the smell of fresh paint. The renovations of the historic Lindley Auditorium are approaching the final stages. GCS maintenance crews have been busy patching plaster and painting the walls and ceiling. New sound panels and curtains are being made, and historical photographs are being transformed onto canvas prints for the walls. New equipment, which will be debuted at the General PTA meeting on Feb. 14 at 6pm, will improve the sound quality in the auditorium. During the spring, we'll invite the community for an Open House to see the improvements we've made, thanks to the support of the Lindley PTA, community donors and businesses, and students/families.

Updates from Lindley Elementary

Did you know?? Lindley Elementary was built in 1928, making it the second oldest school in Guilford County! Lindley Park is fortunate to have such a wonderful school in the middle of the neighborhood. With so many invested families, it is truly a "neighborhood" school. One of the best ways to keep a neighborhood school strong is for the neighborhood to be involved! There are many ways you can be involved at Lindley, even if you don't have children who attend, such as by volunteering or supporting programs. Here are some things going and ways to plug in:

The Garden - The Lindley Garden has become a special place for Lindley students to grow and eat their own vegetables and fruits. Digging for sweet potatoes or tasting fresh peas off the vine is a unique opportunity for many! Look for late spring/summer farmers markets on campus and possibly a booth at the Curb Market. Neighbors are welcome to visit the garden, but please leave the vegetables so students can enjoy the fruits of their labors!

Gifts of Generosity - Through an anonymous donor, students at Lindley will have the opportunity to select a charity and be "donors" by making a contribution as a class. It is a meaningful experience for all children to work together to decide as a group which charity to support and creatively come up with ways to increase their contributions!

Support Lindley! If you would like to support any of the above projects or Lindley programs in general, you can make tax-deductible contributions to the Lindley Elementary PTA anytime, or support our annual Fun Run, held in the fall of each year.

There are two other ways you can easily support Lindley through your regular shopping! Link your Harris Teeter VIC card to Lindley (#2872) and clip Box Tops for Education on participating brands (General Mills, Pillsbury, Betty Crocker, etc.). Drop off box tops anytime at the office on Northridge Street. Each one is worth $0.10 for our school, so this adds up! Last year, Harris Teeter added $700 to our PTA budget and box tops added $500, so if we get the neighborhood involved, this could mean even more funds for the school!

From the Chair

by Lauren Smith

Happy 2012 from the Lindley Park Neighborhood Association! Especially for our new neighbors, I thought I would take this opportunity to clarify who (or what) we are. In summary, the purpose of the Association shall be to advocate and support those things that are beneficial to us as a residential neighborhood and oppose those things that are detrimental. Our members are those who are eighteen or older, live and/or own property in our neighborhood, and embrace, support, and subscribe to the stated purpose of the Association. We do not collect dues, but derive financial support from voluntary contributions. So if you are reading this newsletter, you probably are a member! We are not a home owners association, but rather adhere to ordinances set by the City of Greensboro. I received more emails last year about overgrown lawns than anything else, so if the grass in the yard next door is three feet tall, call the City at 373-2489. In due time, they will cut the grass and send a bill to the property owner. Donations and newsletter advertising revenue pay for special events in the neighborhood like Spring Fling and Fall Fest, and neighborhood improvements on occasion. We pay particular attention to neighborhood rezoning requests, and try to work with developers to ensure their plans are a good fit for Lindley Park. We all know what a great neighborhood this is, and want to keep it that way! Want to get involved? Attend one of our meetings. Check out all the committees listed in the newsletter. Come to a social event, like the Easter Egg hunt. Send in a donation. Write an article for the newsletter. Or just send an email to lpnagso@gmail.com, let me know your area of interest. I hope to hear from you soon. And don't forget to support our local businesses!

A huge thank you goes to the unheralded folks that deliver the newsletter to every door. It is the neighborly involvement that makes Lindley Park so great.

Lindley Park Home Sales

by Patti Eckard, REALTOR®, CRS, GRI, SRES®

Each year, as I review the home sales data for our neighborhood, and think back over the previous 12 months I am always surprised how well we do – despite the economy, and despite the media saying home sales and values are down. Yes, 2011 did turn out to be another very challenging year for home sales. Fewer buyers were out shopping for houses.

And, due to a larger inventory across the City, these buyers could afford to be picky. The outcome in Greensboro, on average, was houses stayed on the market longer, prospective sellers had to do more to attract buyers and had to tighten up their list prices. In our own 27403 zip code, 146 houses sold. The average price was $149,394. The sale price percentage to list price was 93.2%. Days on market (DOM) was 143.9 days.

But, as you will see from the table, Lindley Park did a little bit better in 2011. While fewer houses sold in the neighborhood last year, the average sale price went up a little over 1.5%. And, the average close price per square foot went up by $2.00 per square foot.

These increases were due in part to size and style of the homes sold. More period styles like bungalows, Cape Cod and Tudor style homes were clear favorites. But, most 3 bedrooms, 2 full bath homes no matter the age or style got a lot of attention if these homes were priced right and in good condition. In the end, homebuyers were able to net 96.5% of their list price. Please remember that these figures are averages. Not all houses sold for 96.5% of the list price. Unfortunately, Lindley Park was not immune to foreclosures. Several foreclosed properties sold in our neighborhood during 2011.

While 2012 is getting off to another cautious start, newly listed houses in Lindley Park are starting to sprout up on the market just like spring flowers. In turn, prospective buyers are checking out Open Houses, real estate websites and talking with current Lindley Park homeowners to find out what might be coming on the market. 2012 will also bring new property values set by the Guilford County tax department. Last time a reevaluation occurred was 2004. It will be interesting to see how our neighborhood fares during this challenging economic time.

As the weather warms, flowers start to bloom – Lindley Park will be at its best. So, if you are thinking about putting your house on the market – use this slower time wisely. Get your house ready. Consider a pre-listing home inspection to make sure your home does not have any hidden problems. Work on your curb appeal. Freshen up the inside with paint.

Lindley Park will always continue to be a sought after destination for many prospective homeowners. Besides the obvious- tree lined streets, the Park, sidewalks, walking distance to restaurants, stores and an elementary school, we have so much more.

Note: Information compiled from the Greensboro Housing Report, 2011 by Jud & Associates and the Triad Multiple Listing Service.

The Lindley Park Garden Club will meet the first Saturday of each month to share ideas and learn new ways of growing, including how you can grow things in a small space, even if you are renting!

Next meeting - Saturday, March 3rd, 1:00-2:30pm at the garden at Lindley Elementary.

We will discuss cool season planting, preparing seeds and children and gardens. In case of bad weather, look for an announcement by the neighborhood listserve.

If you have questions, please contact Stephen Johnson (sjohnson@rpm-data.com) or Palmer McIntyre (mcintyrepalmer@gmail.com)

Attention Dog Owners

by Alice Beecher

It costs Lindley Park Neighborhood Association $210 to keep 3 dog-bag stations stocked with dog-bags. That's $.14 per bag.

The intention is to supplement dog owners with a bag if they forget to carry one. We have many "plastic bag" options that could serve as a cleanup bag: newspaper, produce or shopping bags.

Please consider taking only the bags you need for your current walk, not several at a time. Often, the bags are gone in several days, an unnecessary expense for all of us.

That Friday Night Thing

Nobody has to remind you how expensive things have become in today's economy. Rent, house payments, car payments, groceries and -oh yes- entertainment. An evening out for you and your family can easily put a considerable dent in your pocketbook. A movie and popcorn or an event at the Coliseum plus parking can easily equal your monthly electric bill. But, alas, there is an alternative!

On the last Friday night of every month, The Lindley Park Baptist Church, 4010 Walker Ave., conducts an evening of entertainment in the fellowship hall. This event can best be described as a variety show. Beginning at 7:00 p. m. and continuing for about 2 hours, members of our church and guests give a multitude of performances ranging from musical interludes to stand up comedy.

The master of ceremonies, Jordan Hart, is a talented musician, quick witted and glib tongued young man who will keep you chuckling the whole night through. Performers are members of our church and others who wish to display their talents to an appreciative audience.

So, instead of spending a Friday night in melancholia, come join us for a frolicking good time filled to the brim with good, clean family entertainment that you will be talking about the next day. The entertainment is free. The refreshments are free. And yes, even the parking is free. We do, however, accept donations, on a voluntary basis, for non-church charities like the American Red Cross, the Salvation Army, and the Urban ministries.

Looking forward to seeing you at "That Friday Night Thing." And, oh yes, did I mention that it is FREE.

Lindley Elementary Garden News

The Lindley Elementary Garden will soon be in full production as spring approaches! March 5-9 is our designated Planting Week, when classes will plant peas, lettuce, spinach, broccoli and other spring crops in the garden and seed trays. We will also have a visit from Vern Switzer, a farmer and author of children's books. Look for on-campus Farmers Markets later in the spring!

The fall garden was busy too! Several classes planted cool weather crops, like lettuce, beets, spinach, kale, cabbage and broccoli. Kindergartners stamped with okra to make garden "quilts", counted okra seeds, and learned about their senses as they tasted, smelled and touched items in the garden. Some second graders picked salad and others made a garden salsa. Many classes had the opportunity to eat fresh salad in December! The Greensboro Children's Museum worked with several classes to do garden-related activities in pre-K, Mrs. Riley's 2nd grade class, and ACES (K-2). Have questions or want to get involved? Everyone is welcome! Contact Palmer McIntyre at mc-intyrepalmer@gmail.com or 854-4080.

by Jack Almon

As surely as the swallows return to Capistrano and the daffodils bloom in the spring, the Lindley Park Baptist Church spring yard sale will be held on Saturday, April, 21st. This yard sale has become known in certain circles as the mother of all church yard sales and this one promises to be nothing less than spectacular! So, save the date and don't be late; it starts at 8 (a. m).

Meet a Pet: Marvin the Schipperke

Who are you, and tell me a little about yourself.

How flattering to be interviewed, let me introduce myself! My name is Marvin, I am a five year old Schipperke. My ancestors hunted rats on Belgium river boats and were trained to nip at the heels of horses pulling the barges. I am an excellent watch dog but try to be considerate of my neighbors and don't bark excessively. Like all Schipperkes, I have thick black hair, no tail, and a nicely pointed snout. I weigh in at a perfectly average 20 pounds and stand 25" high. I'm a very strong dog for my size.

What are your hobbies?

I get hot in the summer, so I like to wade in my pool. When it's really hot, I like to just stand there, close my eyes, and meditate. When the weather is cooler, I like to lay on the patio or deck on my belly (My owner calls that the "frog-dog" pose). I'm always ready for a game of fetch, especially with my squeaky toys and just about anything that can be thrown. I love grilled meat, so outdoor cooking is a hobby. And I like playing with my cat brother...when he lets me.

Do you like being a Schipperke?

Certainly, you don't come across a Schipperke every day! I'm glad to be unusual, but there are more of us around than you think. Our mail carrier owns Schipperkes. I do wish I were a little taller, I'd like to meet more people at eye level. But it's a good life; I'm not too big, nor too small, but just right!

Is there anything you'd like to tell your owner?

Well, she takes great care of me that's for sure. She went all the way to Alabama to rescue me. And I love Lindley Park, it's beautiful here with great places to walk. I don't want to complain, but I wish she would brush my teeth more often. I'm very particular about my teeth. People judge you by your smile, and I want to make a good impression.

Dogged By Obesity

Man's best friend is battling one of man's worst enemies -- obesity. Up to 40% of dogs in the U.S. weigh too much. Like people, overweight dogs are at risk for health problems, from arthritis to heart disease. This is one challenge you and your pet can face together. Research suggests people who exercise with their dogs are more likely to stick to a fitness program. The key is finding activities you both enjoy.

Walking

Brisk walking is an ideal exercise for human and hound. The benefits include a stronger heart, lower blood pressure, more energy, denser bones, and a lower risk of depression. In dogs, regular walks can also reduce common behavior problems. A trip to the vet for your dog and a doctor's checkup for you is recommended before starting an exercise program.

Jogging

Not all dogs are built to jog. Greyhounds, for example, are pros at short-distance sprinting, but can become fatigued during long-distance runs. If you want to jog with your dog, choose a breed that is suited to distance-running, such as a Labrador. Wait until your pup is full grown and then gradually build up to a 30-minute excursion. This should include five minutes of warm-up, 20 minutes of jogging, and five minutes of cooldown. Remember that dogs can't sweat, so avoid the hot times of the day and stop if your dog is lagging behind you.

Agility Training

Agility training is another popular goal-oriented sport. Your dog races through an obstacle course with ladders, hurdles and tunnels, while you run alongside offering praise and encouragement. The fast pace provides both of you with an excellent cardiovascular workout, while your dog also develops improved coordination. Participate in organized competitions or look for a park with an agility course you can use on your own time.

Soccer

If you're a soccer fanatic, why not make your dog a fan, too? Check your pet supply store for soccer-style exercise balls for dogs. These are made of hard plastic and come in different sizes to suit your particular breed. You kick the ball, and your dog tries to pass it back with his nose or paws. You can also use a regular soccer ball made for people -- just be careful about kicking the ball directly at your dog's face or body.

Lindley Park 7th Annual Yard Sale

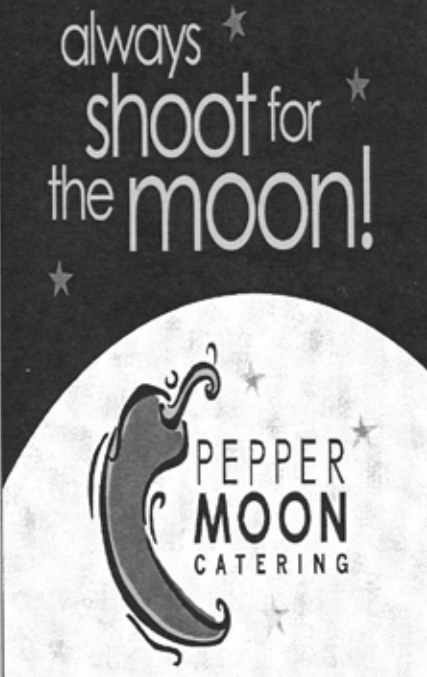

Saturday, April 28th, 2012, 8am - until

Do you need to clean out the garage, attic and spare room but don't know what to do with your stuff? Join in the neighborhood Yard Sale! All you have to do is set up your sale table in front of your house—and sell your stuff! If you don't have enough to sell, then ask a neighbor to join in with you. And, if you make a profit, we hope you will consider making a donation to the Lindley Park Neighborhood Association. Contributions help pay for social events and activities in the neighborhood.

The Yard Sale is sponsored by Patti Eckard of REMAX REALTY CONSULTANTS. It will be promoted in the News Record, FACEBOOK, and the Lindley Park website prior to the event. Directional signs and flyers listing all of the locations will be provided to you. This is a great way to get rid of your stuff, make a little money, contribute to the neighborhood association and meet some of your neighbors. For now, all I need is your name, address, telephone number and/or email address. Deadline to reserve your spot is April 20. Contact Patti Eckard, Patti.Eckard@gmail.com or by home phone 632-1448.

Fetch
 Fetching a ball or favorite toy over and over can be great exercise for your dog. But it doesn't do much for you, if you're just standing there tossing. Instead, make a game of fetch part of your home workout routine. Do lunges or abdominal crunches as you throw the ball. You might build more muscle by throwing a heavy ball, but a soft, lightweight toy is safest for your dog's mouth

Establishing a Routine
 Develop a workout routine that's realistic, considering your job schedule and other demands on your time. Also consider your dog's needs -- working breeds and juvenile dogs usually need a lot of exercise. Start with a short-term goal of exercising just five or 10 minutes every day. Gradually work up to 30 minutes on most days of the week. Keep in mind that deep-chested breeds, such as Danes or Doberman pinschers, should not exercise right after meals.

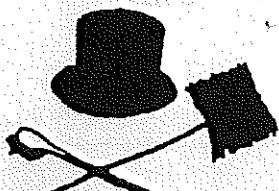

Gentle Exercises for Older Dogs
 Just because your senior dog moves with a slower, stiffer gait than when he was a pup doesn't mean he should stop exercising. Senior dogs, especially those with arthritis, not only can exercise -- in many cases, they should. Exercise helps increase flexibility and endurance, strengthens muscles around the joints, and can help stave off health problems caused by obesity. Exercise also aids bowel function, which is especially important in older dogs. And, since obesity tends to make arthritis worse, any activity that helps your dog lose weight could ease his symptoms in the long run. Try low-impact exercises, such as swimming and moderate walking, with your old fellow.

Note to the Chief

Dear Chief Miller,

The events of January 31, 2012 will not soon be forgotten in Lindley Park. On behalf of the Lindley Park Neighborhood Association, I want to thank the Greensboro Police Department and the other public safety agencies for their quick response, professionalism, and bravery. The situation that day was stressful and frightening for many, and we are relieved and happy it was resolved in a peaceful manner. We also are glad that our neighbor is getting the help he needs. Greensboro, and Lindley Park, is a great place to live!

Sincerely,
 Lauren Smith

Greensboro Neighborhood Congress

The LPNA is a member of the Greensboro Neighborhood Congress (GNC), a citywide alliance of neighborhoods. The objective of the GNC is to improve the quality of life within the City of Greensboro by addressing issues of citywide importance to neighborhoods and by empowering neighborhoods to resolve neighborhood-specific concerns.

Representatives from member groups meet monthly at open meetings. The next meeting is March 10, 9-11 a.m. at the Central public library. Our January meeting included information about our upcoming property tax revaluations and was summarized in our meeting notes as follows:

Ben Chavis, Guilford County Tax Director, explained what to expect from the County's 2012 property tax revaluations, which will be mailed to taxpayers in March 2012. Our County has approx. 164,000 residential properties and approx. 44,000 commercial properties with a total tax base of approx. $44 billion appraised by thirteen appraisal professionals. State law requires county tax revaluations for all real property (land and buildings) every 8 years. Property reassessment is intended to determine the "most likely price that the property would sell for". Although property tax rates may increase slightly, property tax values may be reduced slightly to reflect currently depressed housing sale values. The combination of current tax rates and tax values suggests that most property owners will not experience extreme tax fluctuation. Newly implemented property tax software allows tax appraisers to create more equitable appraisals across 2,500 neighborhoods, to track all real property sales across the County, to see tax anomalies and correct them, and to create a schedule of tax values in which properties are appraised across comparable locations. Every citizen has the right of legitimate property tax appeal. Appeal forms are provided with your tax assessment mailing. After this property tax revaluation, your appeal may be elevated to the County Board of Equalization and Review. FAQ's and significant Guilford County Tax revaluation information is available at www.co.guilford.nc.us.gov. Click on the Tax Department link.
