Healthy Pets Have Clean Teeth

Proper dental care for your pet removes harmful calculi and bacteria. Infections develop that destroy the tooth's periodontal ligament. If the calculi is not removed, the affected tooth loosens and falls out. The bacteria is directly absorbed into the bloodstream and can cause serious infections in the heart valves, kidneys and liver. One missed year of dental care for your pet is equivalent to 7 human years without oral care. Protect your pet from painful dental disease and schedule an appointment now.
